

21 October 1970

Honorable Edward W. Brooke
United States Senate
Washington, D. C. 20510

Dear Senator Brooke:

In behalf of Mr. Helms (who is on a quick trip to Southeast Asia) and the rest of us here in the Agency I want to tell you how very much we appreciate Alton Frye's participation in our Advanced Intelligence Seminar last week. He and Richard Perle, of Senator Jackson's staff, led a panel discussion on the subject of "National Priorities from a Congressional Perspective."

We have recently been trying in these senior training programs to broaden the perspective of our key people by including subjects that go beyond our immediate responsibilities. The response of our participants has been most enthusiastic, and Alton's outstanding contribution was an unqualified success.

We hope to be calling on him again in the future if you can spare him.

Sincerely,

[Redacted Signature]

John M. Maury
Legislative Counsel
